Life insurance products contain fees, such as mortality and expense charges (which may increase over time), and may contain restrictions, such as surrender periods.

The Premium Deposit Account Agreement has restrictions that may result in termination of the agreement prior to the payment of all of the planned premiums and may result in the loss of expected interest. Interest credited when used to pay policy premiums will be reported as taxable income to the policy owner.

Interest may vary by state. PDA interest is dependent on the number of annual planned premium payments paid from the PDA. The same interest rate is applied for all payments. If paying 11 premiums, one premium must be paid at issue; therefore, a maximum of 10 years of additional premiums may be deposited into the PDA.

In some states, interest may be paid upon death or PDA termination and will be calculated using the Minimum PDA Annual Interest Rate.
