Getting started

Complete a brief online application for your client. You will also need to include a note indicating that this is a submission under the Nationwide Executive Advantage program.

Provide personal and health information electronically through a secure and easy online process:

- A secure link to the online interview will be emailed to your client and reminder emails will be sent until the online interview is completed

What to expect during your client's personal and health question interview

The interviewer may already have background information about your client's prescription and driving history pulled from prescription database and motor vehicle reports. During the call, your client will answer questions to provide their personal and medical history, including details such as:

- Verification of the client's Social Security number
- Family history of their parents and siblings (including current age and health concerns or age at death and cause of death)
- Physicians' names, addresses and telephone numbers
- Medical conditions (including dates of treatment)
- Prescribed medications (including dosages)
- Driving history
- Citizenship and/or immigration information
- Alcohol and/or tobacco usage

Your client will have the flexibility to start, stop and continue throughout the process. The online interview is mobile-friendly, so your client can choose to fill it out at home or on the go. When completed, the client will e-sign through DocuSign. If your client needs help, phone support is available.

Nationwide reserves the right to order additional requirements depending on medical and financial insurability.
